Project Description:

Torrington
Sue Grossman Stillwater Greenway
$900,000

Why it matters

This Greenway project involves the completion of a multi-use trail from Harris Road to North Road. It extends a trail originally constructed in 2008 and is shovel ready in that it was designed with the earlier phase of work associated with Project 162-136. The project was bid with numerous “Bid Alternates” none of which could be constructed due to lack of funds. The contractor is still on board and could complete the work through a construction change order; alternatively, the City could repackage the project and advertise it expeditiously.

Solid Investment

- This proposal builds on previous investments in the Stillwater Greenway Facility.
- Trails provide recreational opportunities and an overall health benefit to the users.

Notable Project Facts

- Multi-use trail
- 1,500 meters in length
- Trail surface to be paved with soft shoulders
- Separated from traffic
